Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In 1999 and last year I communicated to public officials about the Microsoft antitrust case and its negative impact on the advancement of technology that improves efficiency in our daily life. For the most part, I received a sympathetic response from them and I want to reiterate to you that the case should be settled and not further litigated. The settlement that has been agreed to by Microsoft, the federal government and nine states is tough, but reasonable and fair to all parties involved. I agree that this settlement is good for consumers, the industry and the American economy.

This is my personal opinion and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of the company I work for but I am expediting communiqué to you through this e-mail to register my opinion.
